

FROM THE PRINCIPAL'S DESK

January 24, 2020

A few, very important reminders:

- If the front door is closed and/or the arrival sign has been switched, please come into the office to sign your child in for the day. We will NOT be admitting late arrivals without an adult beginning Monday, January 27.
- Another procedural reminder – We have been understanding with items being dropped off in the office during the holiday season and upon return to school after the break; however, we find we have to begin to enforce the rule – “If it is forgotten, it stays forgotten” beginning Monday, January 27. Your cooperation is appreciated (and we will be communicating this to the students as well =0).
- One more.....CALL if your child is going to be absent. Again, since the holiday break, we are finding an increased number of calls for safety that are generated from the office. This is a required procedure when a student absence is not reported. PLEASE be mindful of this expectation and be sure to let the office know of your child's absence.

Attendance letters were sent home to some families in recent weeks. Although we understand that various events and calendar conflicts may result in a child's absence, the district continues to remain committed to communicating the impact it has upon your child's educational experience.

HERE COMES THE.....BOOK FAIR! We are so excited to host this annual event Wednesday and Thursday, January 29 and 30. The PTO, in collaboration with Ms. Stochaj, has been hard at work ensuring that this event will support each student's reading life. Remember, you can shop as a family on Wednesday evening.

Enjoy the change in routine that the weekend brings! j
