Happy November! I am sending our weekly communication today to launch a long weekend where I hope you are able to disconnect and reconnect doing things that you enjoy with the people you love.

Just a couple of brief reminders:

- If your family plans to travel, please remain aware of the travel advisories and the need to quarantine upon your return. Guidelines can be found on:
<https://www.cdc.gov/coronavirus/2019-ncov/travelers/map-and-travel-notice.html>
- PLEASE remain aware of the weather. As temperatures begin to drop, dressing properly for outdoor mask breaks will ensure that everyone stays healthy and comfortable.
- We will do our best to contact families when a weather report indicates that mask breaks will not be appropriate. Remember – we can be somewhat flexible with our schedule so please keep a non-perishable snack in your child’s backpack incase weather shifts and we are able to get outside.

Exciting Event....

- The Franklin School Book Fair has gone virtual this year. We are thrilled to support this annual event and look forward to receiving additional details on Sunday morning, November 8th. Thank you in advance to our creative PTO in maintaining this cherished tradition and to you – our families, for your support!
-if you have not yet registered to receive the weekly PTO blast, please reach out and we will be sure that you are signed up.

THANK YOU....

-for all you are doing to keep our school healthy and safe. The decisions we make and choices our behaviors demonstrate have a direct impact upon our ability to remain an open, active and engaged school community.
- for sending along compliments, kind words and encouragement to our faculty and staff. The emails, notes and messages make a world of difference in the daily life of our classrooms, school and professional community.
